

Career Profile

Andrew Montgomerie

Director, Health Care Services, WorkSafeBC

Specialization:
Rehabilitation, Management

Education:

In 1994, Andrew Montgomerie moved from Toronto to Halifax to study Kinesiology at Dalhousie University. He completed his Bachelor of Science (Kinesiology) degree from Dalhousie University in 1998. Following graduation, Andrew moved to Vancouver, BC, where he worked for several years in the rehabilitation field, prior to joining WorkSafeBC (The Workers' Compensation Board of BC) in 2004 as a Quality Assurance Supervisor in the Health Care Services department.

Six years later, Andrew is currently the Director of Health Care Services at WorkSafeBC. He tries to stay connected and up to date with industry best practices through attending conferences and continuing education sessions.

In his spare time, he enjoys playing with his kids and enjoying all of the many outdoor activities British Columbia has to offer!
